

HE'S AS HUMAN AS HUMAN CAN BE

Another song by one of our talented members, Eric wrote this song back in the 1980s. He says he sent the song to the creator of the Garfield cartoon series, but it was not adopted as a theme song. That's a loss for all of Garfield's loyal fans, in my opinion. It's a good song. <https://youtu.be/RCGnmQuSggg>

GARFIELD

by Eric Johnson

TUNE: So Long, It's Been Good to Know Ya' by Woody Guthrie

D

There's a cat in the funnies

A7

You really should know.

D

His mind's razor sharp

A7

Though his body is slow.

D

D7

He hates dogs and kittens,

G

And he never eats mice,

A7

But, he thinks that lasagna

D

Is oh, so nice!

CHORUS:

D

His name's Garfield.

He's daffy and crazy.

A7

Garfield, he's fat and he's lazy.

D

G

Garfield, though his eyes look so hazy,

D

He's more than a cat.

A7

He's a hero to me.

D

He's as human as human can be.

Whenever Jon wants to take him to the vet,

He's nowhere around.

On that you can bet.

He hates Monday mornings,

And I'm sure you'll agree

In that way, he's exactly

Like you and like me.

Chorus.

He beats up on Odie

All of the time.

The way that he treats him

Is really a crime.

His opinion of canines

Prompts him to say,

"Have you kicked your dog today?"

Chorus.
