

WHAT A FINE PLACE FOR ONE TO BE

Hickory Hill put on a fine show for us at the April Second Saturday concert. This song by John Early, one of the founding members of the group, was among the ones they performed. Like many bluegrass lead singers, John pitches his songs pretty high. I have taken it down from the key of A to G for slightly easier singing. If you want to play along with the recording, you can just capo at the second fret and follow the chord symbols shown below. You can listen to the song here: <https://youtu.be/5korVEsAnvM?si=DXTj8UrkbJpL36AQ>

SONGS ABOUT TEXAS

By John Early

CHORUS:

G C
Have you heard the songs about Texas?
D G
Songs with sweet country melodies.
C
Songs of love and grace about Texas –
D G
And what a fine place for one to be.
C G
Tears flow free on a Texas morning.
C G
No matter how beautiful it seems.
C G
Beauty can't change the way you're feelin".
D G
When a man is tied there in his dreams.

CHORUS

The afternoon is still hangin' 'round me.
Clouds and rain are still pourin' down.
I don't believe it's the Texas weather
That makes a man kneel to the ground.

CHORUS

REPEAT CHORUS

Repeat Last Line
