SECOND SATURDAY CONCERT

January 13, 2018 7:30 p.m.

Rev. Robert B. Jones, Sr.

Reverend Robert B. Jones, Sr. is an inspirational singer, songwriter, storyteller and self-taught award-winning multi-instrumentalist. He plays guitar, harmonica, mandolin, banjo and fiddle using folk, blues, spirituals and other American Roots music to champion the history, beauty and power of our shared culture.

A lifelong Detroit, Rev. Jones has been performing professionally for nearly 30 years throughout the United States. He has entertained and educated audiences of all ages in schools, colleges, libraries, union halls, prisons, churches and civil rights organizations. His deep love for traditional African American and American music is shared in live performances that interweave timeless stories with original and traditional songs. I heard him at Kerrville this summer and was immensely impressed.

Acclaimed photographer James Fraher writes about Robert: "Perhaps the world's most highly educated blues musician, an ordained minister, a longtime DJ and a living encyclopedia of blues history, the Reverend Robert Jones is comfortable among juke joint loud talkers, fancy-hatted church ladies, and PhDs alike."

This will be a very special Second Saturday event. Don't miss the opportunity to hear this outstanding artist all the way from Michigan!

Second Saturday Concert is presented by the Houston Folklore and Music Society, a nonprofit organization dedicated to the preservation of folklore and acoustic music. Homemade refreshments are available. Tickets are sold at the door - adults $15, senior citizens (65) $11, and children under 12 free with adults. Concerts are held the second Saturdays of each month in the West University Community Center at 6104 Auden (One mile west down Rice Boulevard from the Rice Stadium parking lot.) Phone Paul Cooper at 713-204-1207 (cell) for more concert information. Visit our website at: www.houstonfolkmusic.org

OTHER UPCOMING HFMS JANUARY EVENTS

HFMS January Meeting/Song Circle.

Our monthly song circle is Monday, January 8, from 7:30 to 10:00PM. (This is the second Monday, since January 1 is a holiday) at the Jewish Community Center. The JCC is located at 5601 South Braeswood Boulevard, Houston, TX 77096-3999. Ask the front desk for the room number of the Houston Folklore and Music Society meeting.

Meetings consist of a "song circle", allowing each attendee an opportunity to share a song, story, announcement, or other item which he or she may wish to share with the group. Non-performers are just as welcome as performers. After all, musicians, singers, and storytellers all need an audience.

January Pickin' Party

The next Pickin' Party is from 2:00-6:00 PM, Sunday, January 21 at the home of Terry and Bill Pinkston, and cohosted by Carl Brainerd and Rita Sommer. Terry and Bill's home is at 4014 Essex Lane, Houston, TX, near Central Market and Highland Village Apple Store, half way between the Westheimer/Weslayan and the Alabama/Weslayan intersections (and 1 block to the west) for reference purposes. Terry and Bill's phone number is 713-439-0309 .

The hosts will provide a main dish, soft drinks, water, plates, utensils, etc. Bring a side dish or dessert for the pot luck meal, which is from 2:00 to 3:00 PM. Song circle will be from 3:00 to 6:00 PM.

Guests are always welcome at our Pickin' Parties! Bring food to share, an instrument, voice and/or ear, and a friend.

Host a Pickin' Party at your home, church or community center. It's great fun, and greatly appreciated, when you host one of our monthly Sunday gatherings. Contact Carolyn at carolynadavis@aol.com for information.

LAST MONTH'S HAPPENINGS

 December Monday Song Circle met at the JCC on December 4. A small, but energetic gathering of music enthusiasts shared winter and holiday songs, as well as a couple of stories.

Caroling Party! Terry and Bill Pinkston hosted a Christmas Carol Party at their home on the chilly evening of December 9.

HFMS musicians filled the driveway and garage, playing and singing all styles of winter and Christmas songs, as neighbors and friends, from toddlers to the eldest “young at heart” came by for a visit to hear and sing along with the music. Terry had prepared warm and sweet treats for participants and visitors, including her home-made dog cookies for the canines in attendance. A jolly time was had by all! Thank you, Terry and Bill!

 December Pickin’ Party was hosted by Bob and Sue Lahmeyer, in their lovely rural home on December 10. The well attended event featured an amazing meal, followed by three hours of wonderful stories and music (featuring lots of holiday songs).

Bob and Sue’s grand-daughter, Quinn, a quite fine young musician, delighted us with a song. (She has been taking music lessons from Bob, and attending recent Second Saturday concerts.) Quinn’s brother also did a great job of singing along. We hope they will be joining us for more pickin’ parties!

The afternoon was rich with friends, new and old, and fantastic festive music!

 Featured Song

AND HIS BODY HAS NEVER BEEN FOUND

This song was not composed by Lead Belly, but is a traditional song that he seems to have been the first to record. Though popular in the folk music and bluegrass community for decades, this song received its greatest boost when Nirvana performed it on MTV Unplugged in 1993, and Kurt Cobain referred to Lead Belly as his favorite performer ever. The song is played in E major, but to sing it like Lead Belly you need to start the first note on the word “my” a little flat – around a G note – and slide up in the direction of the G# that is contained in the E chord. You can hear this song performed by Lead Belly at <https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=PsfcUZBMSSg> or on the HFMS Audio Archive at http://www.houstonfolkmusic.org/HFS Audio Archive.html.

WHERE DID YOU SLEEP LAST NIGHT

Traditional

CHORUS:

E A G
My girl, my girl don't you lie to me –
 B7 E

Tell me where did you sleep last night.

E A G
In the pines, in the pines where the sun don't ever shine
 B7 E
And I shivered the whole night through.

My girl, my girl tell me where will you go?

I'm goin' where the cold winds blow.

In the pines, in the pines where the sun don't ever shine
And I shivered the whole night through.

CHORUS

My husband was a hard workin' man --

Killed a mile and a half from here.

His head was found in a driver wheel,

And his body has never been found.

CHORUS

LEAD BELLY THE FOLK SINGER

-- by Paul Cooper

While most of us are familiar with Lead Belly's name (he was born "Huddie William Ledbetter") and some of his most famous songs, I suspect fewer of us have heard a lot of his original music. Fortunately, dozens of recordings exist, and just a little time on YouTube is enough to further our knowledge and enjoyment considerably. There are some excellent playlists like this one: https://www.youtube.com/results?search_query=leadbelly+playlist that are well worth listening to.

Our upcoming January Second Saturday concert January 13 (see front page) is another opportunity to further our education about Lead Belly, the blues and the extraordinary contributions African-American artists have made to our folk music heritage.

LEAD BELLY AROUND 1944

THE REVEREND ROBERT B. JONES, SR.

Lead Belly's songs (he wrote his name most often using two words as I have done here, rather than "Leadbelly", as we frequently see in print) encompass far more than the blues. He sang about relationships, prison, war, growing up, social commentary and many other topics. Though he played accordion, piano, mandolin, harmonica and violin, he is best known for the characteristic driving style he developed on the 12-string guitar.

This song,, "Mr. Hitler' <https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=VQva5wKSfzM> though not one of his better known ones, illustrates very well his style and mastery on the twelve-string and the characteristic walking bass technique that he learned listening to barrelhouse piano players in his days growing up in Louisiana. He could execute this style at considerable speed, as this recording of "Fannin Street" illustrates <https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=-KxlutC-A50> .

Huddie had a hard life and hung out with hard people. While in Sugar Land prison (he served there from 1918-1925) for killing a relative in a fight over a woman, he overcame and nearly killed another prisoner who attacked him, severely wounding the man with his own knife. That was his second time in prison. The first time, in 1915 in East Texas, he escaped and came to Bowie County (near Texarkana), where he frequently performed in Dallas with Blind Lemon Jefferson.

His third time in prison, he was “discovered” in 1933, having served three years, in Angola Prison Farm in Louisiana by John Avery Lomax and his son Alan. After his release from Angola in 1935, (facilitated by a petition the Lomaxes brought to Louisiana Governor O. K. Allen), he spent an eventful three months on the road with Lomax, performing at a number of colleges and universities. The relationship with John Lomax was difficult at times, and they parted ways. Lomax’s book, Negro Folk Songs As Sung by Lead Belly was not commercially successful (I read the book in 1959 and found it intensely interesting). Alan Lomax stepped into the picture again in 1939 to help Ledbetter raise money for legal expenses on an assault charge.

From the late 1930’s through 1949, the year he died, Lead Belly spent a great deal of time in New York. He was a regular on Alan Lomax’s CBS radio show, Back Where I come From. He performed regularly with Josh White, Sonny Terry, Brownie McGee, Woody Guthrie and Pete Seeger. In 1949 he had a weekly radio show called Folk Songs of America. Later that year he went on a performing tour to France, but was unable to complete it, and was diagnosed with ALS (Lou Gehrig’s Disease). His final concert was a tribute to his former mentor John Lomax at The University of Texas in Austin.

One way to measure the scope of his musical legacy is to consider the number of songs he recorded that later became very popular, some downright hits, by other people. These would include “Down in the Valley”, “Easy Rider”, “Salty Dog”, “Cotton Fields”, “Alabama Bound”, “Midnight Special”, “Goodnight Irene”, “Bring a Little Water Sylvie”, “The Titanic”, and “House of the Rising Sun”. Lead Belly was never very successful playing to African-American audiences. His blues tunes that were released on “race” record labels sold poorly. His most enthusiastic audiences tended to be white intellectuals and left-leaning political groups.

Lead Belly led an amazing life. I have only touched on a few of the highlights specifically related to his music. There were many sides to his character, and he could be called many things. But he was certainly a folk singer – because folks still sing his songs.

Woody Guthrie: Tribute Concerts Carnegie Hall, 1968; Hollywood Bowl, 1970

by Eric Johnson

I have been influenced by Woody Guthrie for most of my life. The two songs I remember hearing as a child are "Put Your Finger In The Air" on Captain Kangaroo, sung by Tom Glazer, and "Oklahoma Hills" some years later on a local country and western program.

I was reading an "Acoustic Guitar" magazine in November, when my eyes fell upon a 3-CD collection featuring the Guthrie tribute concerts done at Carnegie Hall and The Hollywood Bowl between 1968 and 1970. The Hollywood Bowl is a 2-CD performance. I ordered them immediately. When I received them, they came with a two-booklet portfolio, one featuring the songs themselves, and the other being a photo album of the performers featured at the concert. The collection must weigh at least five pounds, but they were well worth the effort of opening.

Actors Will Geer (who lived with Woody for a while), Robert Ryan, and Peter Fonda provide the narration of some of Woody's quotes and biography,

The musical performers run the gamut from Pete Seeger, Dylan, Arlo, Ramblin' Jack, Tom Paxton, Ritchie Havens to Joan Baez. Judy Collins, and Odetta, whose booming voice produced a dominant feature. She really threw herself in to this performance, and I wish she were still here today.

If you have any Christmas money left over, and are looking for a good way to start the New Year, I highly recommend this portfolio. You won't be disappointed. It is a musical masterpiece.
